BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE

Phoebe Weston, born in Townsend, Massachusetts on August 26, 1814, moved with her parents to Ohio. She married Franklin Farmer in the early 1840s and their daughter Alice Cary was born at Wilmington, Ohio, on November 1, 1847. The couple and their children moved to Nauvoo, Illinois, and after some difficulties the family relocated in New Iberia, Louisiana, in 1851. Due to the family's Union sympathies, the family left New Iberia during the Civil War. Phoebe and Alice had to flee to the Union army in Louisiana.

During the war, Alice served as an army nurse in hospitals in and around New Orleans and as a teacher in a school for blacks in Baton Rouge and in New Orleans. Her future husband, Samuel A. Risley, served as a member of the United States Army Signal Corp in the 117th Illinois Infantry Regiment. After the war, Alice married Samuel Risley in St. Louis in 1872, and they moved to West Plains, Missouri, where Samuel became one of the city's first newspapermen and later postmaster.

Alice and Samuel had four children: Guy Weston (June 4, 1875-1965), Florence (April 1, 1877-January 10, 1926), Nellie (January 26, 1879-November 27, 1905), and Frank (August 29, 1883-1898). Franklin Farmer and Samuel Risley both died in 1894, and Phoebe Farmer died a year later on November 10, 1895. Alice became a member of the National Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War (affiliated with the Grand Army of the Republic) and served as national president of that organization for 16 years. When she died in Alexandria, Louisiana on May 10, 1939, she was reputed to be the last surviving nurse of the Civil War.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The family papers and photographs of Phoebe Farmer, Alice Risley, and Sam Risley concern family matters, personal and professional activities, life in Civil War Louisiana (especially New Iberia and New Orleans), participation in Grand Army of the Republic and Army Nurses Association, poetry, education, and Civil War hospitals. The collection includes a diary kept by Alice Farmer (Risley) during the Civil War, an account of Sam Risley's experiences at the siege of Vicksburg, and poetry of Phoebe Farmer. Scrapbooks also include her poetry, writings, and clippings related to Alice's participation in National Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War. Photographs include family portraits, as well as cartes-de-visite of Union soldiers and Louisiana neighbors, specifically from Morgan City, New Iberia, and New Orleans. Also present is a mounted photographic print of African-American laborers in rice field, circa 1880-1900.

Note: The Alice Farmer Risley diary had been loaned for microfilming several years ago and returned to the donor. It was accessioned as the Alice Cary Risley Diary, Mss. 2269. With the donation of the original, the microfilm was combined with the collection, which was filmed in 2004 in its entirety, including the diary. The older film was retained because the diary was laminated in the interceding years and is difficult to read in its current state.

SERIES AND SUBSERIES DESCRIPTIONS

Series I. Family Papers, 1862-1939

Family papers of Alice Cary Farmer Risley, containing correspondence and papers of her, her mother Phoebe Farmer, and her husband Sam Risley, are related to professional activities as a part of the Union war effort, veteran's organizations, and politics. The bulk of the early material is related to Samuel A. Risley's service in the Union Army. A hospital pass for Alice Farmer is also included. The later material covers Samuel Risley's work in West Plains, Mo., and Alice Risley's participation in the Army Nurses Association.

Series II. Writings, 1856, undated

Subseries 1. Poetry, undated

This subseries contains handwritten manuscripts of Phoebe Farmer's poetry, and her book of poetry, v. 7, The Captives and Other Poems, (1856), which was published under the author name of Mrs. P. Farmer.

Subseries 2. Samuel Risley Account of Vicksburg, undated

Samuel Risley, of the 117 Illinois Infantry Regiment, describes his experience during the Union siege of Vicksburg.

Series III. Printed Items, 1852-1938

Subseries 1. Newspaper Clippings, 1852-1938

These newspaper clippings include a copy of the Rio Escondido News, a Nicaraguan newspaper for which Samuel Risley served as editor.

Subseries 2. Ephemera, undated [circa 1861-1865]

This subseries holds three bills printed by the Confederate States of America and another by the Eastern Bank of Alabama.

Series IV. Photographic Materials, 1860-circa 1935

Subseries 1. Photographs, 1865-circa 1935

These twenty-three photographs (4901c0001-4901c0023) are of Alice Risley's family. Most of the pictures were taken in Missouri. Included are portraits and group pictures of Phoebe Farmer, Sam Risley, Alice Risley, Guy Weston Risley, Nellie Risley, Florence Risley, and Frank Risley. There are also two photographs associated with Guy Weston Risley taken in and around New Iberia, LA, around the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries. Includes cabinet cards, cartes-de-visite, modern prints of older photographs, and mounted prints. See Appendix A for size and type of each photograph.

GUIDE TO MICROFILM

Note: The Alice Farmer Risley diary had been loaned for microfilming several years ago and returned to the donor. It was accessioned as the Alice Cary Risley Diary, Mss. 2269. With the donation of the original, the microfilm was combined with the collection, which was filmed in 2004 in its entirety, including the diary. The older film was retained because the diary was laminated in the interceding years and is difficult to read in its current state.
